

By train

This information is current as of July 1, 2023.

[JR Joban Line] From Tokyo (Shinagawa Station, Tokyo Station, Ueno Station) to Tokai Station

You can take the limited express "Hitachi" and "Tokiwa" of the JR Joban Line from Shinagawa Station, Tokyo Station and Ueno Station. Some Hitachi and Tokiwa services stop at Tokai Station. If you take a limited express that does not stop at Tokai Station, please go down at Katsuta Station or Mito Station and transfer to a regular train.

If you get off at Mito Station and transfer to a regular train, you will arrive at Tokai Station in 3 stations (about 15 minutes). If you get off at Katsuta Station and transfer to a regular train, you will arrive at Tokai Station in 2 stations (about 10 minutes).

Time required

Tokyo Station-Tokai Station: The shortest time is about one and a half hours

Tokyo Station-Mito Station (when using "Hitachi"): About 1 hour and 15 minutes

Transfer from Mito Station to Tokai Station (Regular train on Joban Line): about 15 minutes

Fare

Tokyo (Shinagawa, Tokyo, Ueno Station) to Tokai Station: JPY 3,890

Ticket: JPY 2,310

Reserved seats: JPY 1,580

The above price is an example because the price varies depending on the ticket purchase method.

You can search for your timetable at "Japan Transit Planner"

https://world.jorudan.co.jp/mln/en/?sub_lang=nosub

Enter "Tokai"

The screenshot shows the 'Japan Transit Planner' website. The main heading is 'Route Search'. There are input fields for 'From' (Station name), 'To' (Tokai), and 'Date'. Below these are radio buttons for 'Depart', 'Arrival', 'First Train', and 'Last Train'. A large blue 'Search' button is prominent. At the bottom, there are sections for 'Fare type' (Ticket, IC Card, Reserved Seat, Non-Reserved Seat, Green Car (Etc. class)) and 'Seat Preference' (Reserved Seat, Non-Reserved Seat, Green Car (Etc. class)).